

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An organic semiconductor device includes an organic semiconductor layer deposited between a first electrode and a second electrode which are facing each other. The first and second electrodes are made of materials having different work functions with respect to each other.